Office Recycling

Office Combo Series

Recycling at the office shouldn't require extra effort. When recycling bins are too far away or inconvenient to use, recyclable materials can easily end up in the garbage.

A well-placed deskside recycling bin makes diversion a natural part of the workday by putting a convenient option right where waste is generated. The compact design fits easily into office spaces, while providing a simple way to separate recyclables from everyday waste.

The Deskside Office Combo Series helps remove one of the small barriers that can stand in the way of better recycling habits. When recycling is convenient, making the right choice becomes part of the routine.
